Good Relationships (Titus 2:2-8)

Relationships

Unity, Cooperation, or Responsibility

Define: the way in which two or more people or organizations regard and behave toward each other.

Our relationships define how we interact

The purpose of relationships in the church is to teach Formal Teaching --- Cooking School
Informal teaching --- Making cookies Informal teaching the teaching is not a classroom concept, but a life sharing experience

Different lessons for different phases of life

All were about living a godly life

Catered to where you were in life

Older --- being the good example

Younger --- about becoming the good example

A top-down view of various baking ingredients and tools arranged on a white marble surface. On the left, there are two brown eggs, a small metal cup of brown sugar, a larger metal cup of white sugar, and a small metal cup containing several cubes of yellow butter. In the center, a metal whisk stands upright. To its right is a large, round ball of dough. Further right, a wooden rolling pin lies horizontally. Below the rolling pin is a metal sifter filled with white flour, and next to it is a small white ceramic cup filled with milk. In the top left corner, there are some stalks of wheat. The background is a white marble surface with subtle grey veining.
